MEET THE MEDIA

Each Tuesday at 3:30 in the Green Room at the Playhouse weekly press conferences are held to which newspaper reporters and radio interviewers are invited to meet the stars and cast of the current show.

These are informal, low-key gatherings everyone seems to enjoy, and we wish to take this opportunity to thank all those who attend regularly or occasionally.

Newspaper and radio coverage is important to us, for we know people do read the releases, reviews and interviews in daily and weekly papers and listen to radio broadcasts which feature our performers.

Thus, as our 49th season draws to a close, we would like to thank the stars and casts who have been so cooperative this summer and the following media representatives who have given radio time and newspaper space to promote our offerings: Peggy Eastman, feature writer of the Standard Times and photographers Gordon Caldwell and Lou LaPrade; Anne LeClaire of the Illustrated; Jean Upton of WPLM's Showcase of the Stars; Dorothy Dale of WBET and Brockton Enterprise; Ray Hall of WOCB Falmouth; Jan Benedetti of Cape Cod News, Judy Selleck of the Caper.

In addition we would like to thank those who review our plays weekly: Evelyn Lawson of the Standard Times; Ingrid Nelson of the Cape Cod News; Michael Phelps of the Falmouth Enterprise; Fran Hammons of the Chronicle;

Dinner 4:00 to 9:00

Rick Brigham and Craig Little of the Summery; Richard Burton, Ann Gainey, Valerie Lutters of the Oracle; Ed Etsen of the Nauset Calendar; Earl Dias and John Glennon from the New Bedford Standard Times; George Hayden and others from the Wareham Courier; Virginia Shaw from WQRC and Ted Bell from WVLC.

These are our "regulars" — ones we can count on weekly. Additionally, Deven Black and Ray Brown of WCOD, Terry Knopf of Channel 5, Tap Good-enough of the Quincy Ledger, Thor Eckert of The Christian Science Monitor, Elliot Norton of the Boston Herald-American and Channel 2, Kevin Kelly of the Boston Globe have all given us splendid publicity and we are most appreciative of their efforts in our behalf.

Finally, we would like to thank Jack Eckert and Kendall Printing of Falmouth which does our playbill each week, Wayside Studio of Bass River which prints our schedules and Sho-Card Press of W. Harwich which supplies our posters.

We look forward to the help and cooperation of all those mentioned as we celebrate our 50th anniversary in 1976. We know we can count on them.

Please, no tears

Newcomers sometimes cry when they visit us — they're already shopped out of bank balance and here, in the largest of the fine shops of Cape Cod, the Wonderful Things begin. The range is from Contemporary Arts to the Jewel Case — from the unequalled showing of Hadley and Taylor oven-to-table stoneware to the embroidered Cruise Shirts of Mexico. And whether a bronze cheese prong ($1.47) or a custom-tiled dining table ($500 or so) nothing at Tree's is "resort priced". Come browse without tears — and next year visit Tree's first. We're at the intersection of 6A and 28, central to everything on the Cape, and open all year (although seldom on Sundays).

WHO'S WHO IN THE CAST

HANS CONRIED (Willie Clark) has been steadily employed as an actor for more than twenty-five years. Mr. Conried began his acting career on radio, supporting John Barrymore, as well as in broadcasts by Orson Welles, Norman Corwin, Arch Oboler and many others. He was seen on Broadway in "70, Girls, 70," "Tall Story," and in the Broadway production of Cole Porter's "Can-Can," as the Bulgarian sculptor, Boris Adzinidxinade. He appeared last season as Madame Lucy on Broadway and toured across the country in "Irene" supporting Debbie Reynolds and Jane Powell. Mr. Conried has also contributed to the nation's insomnia by appearing regularly as a guest on the Jack Paar show as well as the Johnny Carson and Merv Griffin shows. He has appeared on many of the top TV shows, but perhaps he is best known for his portrayal of Uncle Toonoose on the Danny Thomas show and "Make Room for Granddaddy." He was Professor Kropotkin in "My Friend Irma" for 7 years and Mr. Shultz in "Life with Luigi" for five. Some of his other television credits include a special production of "Kismet," with Jose Ferrer. Mr. Conried has acted in well over 100 films. In Disney's "Peter Pan," he was the voice of both Mr. Darling and Captain Hook and is the Grand Wazier in UPA cartoon feature "Magoo's Arabian Nights." He also narrated Dr. Seuss' "Horton Hears the Who" and a trilogy of "The Cat in the Hat" for television. Mr. Conried has played most all of the Eastern and Midwestern Summer Stock Playhouses, starring in such productions as "Critic's Choice," "How the Other Half Loves," "My Fair Lady," "Pleasure of His Company," "Not in the Book," "Belvedere," "Take Her, She's Mine," "Tall Story," "Absence of a Cello," "Generation," "Don't Drink the Water," "Spofford" and "Norman is That You?" Mr. Conried is an inveterate collector of books, stamps, Japanese sword guards, Oriental art objects — and four children. This is Mr. Conried's fourth appearance at the Playhouse, his previous appearances being in 1963 in "Take Her, She's Mine;" 1965 in "Absence of a Cello;" and 1967 in "Generation."

LOU JACOBI (Al Lewis) is one of the present day theatre's most versatile and capable delineators of varied roles. The Canadian born performer was last disporting himself on Broadway in "Norman, Is That You?" Theatre-goers can also recall him as the bread-stealing Mr. Van Daan in "The Diary of Anne Frank" both on Broadway and in the film version; as the clinical atheist, Schlissel, in "Then Tenth Man;" as the bombastic, domineering father in "Come Blow Your Horn;" as the Hollywood producer in "Fade Out, Fade in," co-starring with Carol Burnett; and as the Newark caterer involved in the behind the Iron Curtain spy shenanigans in Woody Allen's "Don't Drink the Water." Filmgoers have applauded him for such excellent characterizations as Moustache, the bistro owner in "Irma La Douce" and as Franz Lizst's manager in "Song Without End." He also appeared in MGM's "PENELOPE," starring Natalie Wood, and was last seen in Woody Allen's "Everything You Always Wanted to Know About Sex . . . But Were Afraid to Ask." Lou Jacobi made his professional debut in his native Canada and continued his training in London where he played a club engagement at Ciro's; made several films including Sir Carol Reed's "A Kid for Two Farthings;" gave a Command Performance at the Palladium for Queen Elizabeth; and made numerous stage appearances. His first London stage role was "Remains to Be Seen." It was followed by the London versions of "Guys and Dolls," "Pal Joey," and "The World of Sholom Aleichem." He was seen by Garson Kanin in the latter and was cast by Mr. Kanin as the Brooklyn cop in the West End production of Chester Erskine's "Into Thin Air" and later in the original Broadway production of "Anne Frank." Mr. Jacobi has guest-starred on virtually all of the major TV shows and is a national favorite in his regular appearances on "The Dean Martin Show" where he plays the irascible Mr. Kapotoulis. Mr. Jacobi and his wife make their home in New York City.

JOSH BURTON (Ben) has spent the better part of the past two years performing as the entire cast of "Sons of Liberty," a dramatic depiction of the American Revolution. In this one-man show, Mr. Burton has toured the U.S. performing it at scores of schools and colleges as well as at Ford's Theatre in Washington, D.C. and Boston's Old North Church. Prior to "Sons of Liberty," the actor has made a career for himself as an essayer of romantic comedy leads in Dinner Theatres around the country tossing off wise cracks in "Cactus Flower," "Any Wednesday," "Don't Drink the Water," and others too numerous to mention. Mr. Burton's other credits include "The Recruiting Officer" at New York's Undercroft Theatre and the musical "Love Songs" at the 13th Street Theatre. This production is Mr. Burton's second outing with "Sunshine Boys." He last performed the play with Mr. Jacobi and Jack Gilford at Valley Forge Music Fair in Pennsylvania. Josh resides on Central Park West where he is protected by his two dogs Aunt Gertie and Mrs. Tess.

ROSETTA LeNOIRE (Nurse) comes to this Neil Simon play directly from an engagement in another one, "God's Favorite" which recently closed at the Eugene O'Neill Theatre on Broadway and will open at the Shubert Theatre, in California in November. She toured last summer as the Nurse in "The Sunshine Boys," in which she also appeared on Broadway the season of 1973-74. She will also recreate the role of the Nurse for the film of "Sunshine Boys" which opens at Radio City in December. Broadway audiences also saw her in the revival of "A Streetcar Named Desire." Other Broadway appearances include "I Had a Ball," "Blues for Mr. Charlie," "Tambourines to Glory," "Cabin in the Sky," and "Sophie." Off Broadway, Miss LeNoire was Mrs. Holiday in "Lady Day" at the Chelsea Theatre Center and appeared opposite James Earl Jones in "Clandestine on the Morning Line." Her TV credits include "The Nurses," "The Doctors and the Nurses," the daytime series "Another World," and "The Guiding Light," and most recently, "Calucci's Department." Among her other busy activities, Miss LeNoire is active in commercials and finds time to be the Artistic Director of the AMAS Repertory Theatre, an actor's and playwright's workshop in New York. She has just completed making a TV pilot based on the film, "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner" as a possible series for the winter. Other credits include: ABC-TV daytime series, "A World Apart," Canada Dry Best Parties — commercial, N.E.T. TV — Children Guidance Program, Brooklyn Academy of Music (Musical Tragedy) and "Lost in The Stars," starring Brock Peters.

DARLENE PARKS (Sketch Nurse). If you've enjoyed Broadway, the movies, summer theatre or television, chances are that you will recognize Darlene. Her credits are as numerous as her talents. To mention them all would probably put you to sleep before the play starts. So we'll keep it brief and mention only the most recent. The most obvious credit is that she was with the original Broadway company of "The Sunshine Boys," and other Broadway hits like "Play It Again Sam" and "Cabaret." You can see her in a featured role of the newly released movie "The Happy Hooker" with Lynn Redgrave. If you're a soap opera fan, the Margot Stewart of the "Doctors" should ring a bell. That was Darlene. Her most recent off-Broadway show: a revival of "Bus Stop" in which she played the lead part Cherie, a part made famous by Marilyn Monroe. In summer theatre she has performed in "Do I Hear A Waltz?" with Patrice Munsel, "Marriage Go Round" with Theodore Bikel and Dorothy Collins, "Anything Goes" with Edie Adams. Now if you still can't place her, check out some dozens of TV commercials her presence has enlivened in the past year. If you still can't recognize her, take a close look, you'll probably see her again soon.

CHARLTON GRIFFIN (Eddie) received his BFA in Drama & Theatre from the University of Georgia in 1974. His credits include work with John Reich of the Goodman Theatre and Alexander Bardini of the Warsaw National Theatre. Among his major roles, he has appeared in the title role in "The Resistible Rise of Arturo Ui," King Ferdinand in "Love's Labors Lost," Pentheus in "The Bacchae," and Skelley Manor in "The Rhymers of Eldritch." # NEXT WEEK AT THE CAPE PLAYHOUSE

The Dowager Queen of Game Shows, versatile Pat Carroll will appear at the Playhouse starting Monday, August 18 in the musical-mystery "Something's Afoot." Based loosely on Agatha Christie's "Ten Little Indians," "Something's Afoot" is an outrageous spoof of murder most foul, a highly entertaining show that is set in a British country house and features all the familiar ingredients, including a disappearing cast of 10. Called a "hot pot of laughs and a hot bed of suspense" by the Los Angeles Examiner, with characters "Who-Dun-It" denizens will easily recognize, such as a bumbling colonel, a down-at-the-heels dowager, a proper butler (who did NOT do it), an eager ingenue, a wizened gardener, a dissolute nephew, a saucy maid, a family doctor, and a formidable, tweedy, tyro-sleuth (played by Pat Carroll), "Something's Afoot" has something for every member of the family, so bring your husband, your wife, your kids, your cousins, aunts, uncles and grandparents to see this suspenseful, tuneful, cheerful super spoof. Make your reservations now by visiting our box office during intermission or calling at your convenience 385-3911.
